You can even take them off and use them. And we will continue to give ships new colors like the purple ones you see on ships these days, as well as many more variants like our newest "Nimble" ship. There will be also a small selection of ships where we have a special ship color that can be used for this reason.. In other news, we have some new features! Let's take a look at them: - New UI - We've implemented some nice visual updates, including full colour indicators on the main screen, buttons throughout the app, and better control over the keyboard. The UI also has a new look & feel; it's not just the old icon, but a new design that's much more stylish! This lets players better use the system and feel more confident about being a part of an important project. We are also adding more ways to help players get involved.. It is now possible to have multiple people in one room in Razzwell's (or anyone else) game.. No worries with JWL, just download from GBA. In particular, a "Build your ship" feature was added. It will give players a list of everything that needs to be built and allows players to select whatever they want to build first, just like in the past! The system is currently limited to just ships, but will quickly be expanded for many ships. It's a really simple yet very entertaining tutorial that will help players build their own ships faster!..
